Writing and reading workshops for school classes

Workshops lasting 120 minutes can be booked for school classes. Whether it is possible to hold extracurricular events is regulated by the Corona Ordinance.

The workshops of the Literature School guide the conscious and creative use of language, they sensitise for different methods and text genres, for different art forms, media and cultures and thus train writing, reading and communication skills. Each workshop is combined with a short guided tour of the museum. The workshop on Walter Benjamin's Berlin Childhood is four hours long.
